FOURTEENTH YEAR. HAZEL GREEN, WOLFE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1898. NUMBER 6.

SMALL SHOT and SHELL.

Sampson's squadron and the Spanish fleet probably had a battle yesterday.

A corps of army nurses is being formed by the National Society of Daughters of the Revolution.

Secretary Long says that Commodore Dewey will be made an Acting Admiral and later nominated a Rear Admiral.

Gen. Schofield, president of the National Volunteer Reserves, says that organization is assuming immense proportions.

Twenty Spanish farmers, direct from the interior of Spain, arrived in New York last week. They are probably spies and ought to be sent back to Spain.

One of the officers on board the Spanish steamer Argonauta, captured by the gunboat Nashville off the coast of Cuba, is reported to be a brother of Gen. Weyler.

A dispatch from Washington says that since Dewey's great victory at Manila it is reported that President McKinley is confident that our war against Spain in Cuba will end in 90 days.

The patriotic women of St. Joseph, Mo., are engaged in making two handsome silk flags, which they will present to the militia companies of that place. No man has been permitted to contribute a cent toward the cost.

It is announced at Washington that United States naval vessels will bombard Havana or any other fortified port of Spain if deemed necessary, and no foreign power will be allowed to interfere with any of our war movements.

It has been definitely ascertained by the War Department that enough volunteers who have had yellow fever can be obtained in the southern states to overwhelm the Spanish forces in Cuba if their services should be needed.

Among the prisoners on the Spanish mail steamer Argonauta, captured by our fleet off Havana, were Brig. Gen. Moncada, formerly chief of Weyler's staff, and press censor at Havana, and Dr. Garcia, sugeon general of Blanco's army.

The cruisers Columbia and Minneapolis, it is believed, are scouting in the sea east of Boston for Spanish warships, and it is believed that they will go a long distance outward. At Newport, R. I., the cruisers took aboard a large number of carrier pigeons to carry messages ashore if necessary.

England is overwhelmed by the great victory won by Dewey at Manila. His daring, coolness and skill have surprised the entire world. Dispatches from London say that all Europe is amazed and thrilled with wonder and admiration at the brilliant achievements of our gallant commander and his dauntless followers.

The principal reason why France sympathizes with Spain in her war with the United States is that the holdings in France of Spanish securities is over $500,000,000, of which nearly $300,000,000 is Spanish government bonds. If the war goes against Spain her securities will enormously decrease in value.

The president believes that the Cuban soldiers themselves, with the military equipment and supplies which our government is sending them, and the cooperation of Gen. Shafter's force of regulars and cowboy regiments, will be able to do all the land fighting necessary to capture the entire Spanish force in Cuba.

Spanish spies and assassins are swarming everywhere throughout the United States. It is their business to secure plans of our fortifications and information concerning our naval and military preparations and movements. During the past ten days several great powder factories have been blown up by these miscreants, it is believed.

DEWEY'S GREAT VICTORY IN THE BAY OF MANILA!

Eleven of Spain's Warships Destroyed, 400 Spaniards Killed and 700 Wounded in the Battle.

NEARLY ALL OUR WARSHIPS PRACTICALLY UNHARMED.

One Spanish Commander Nails His Colors to the Mast, and all Hands Go Down Fighting, but it Was Dewey's Day and Their Doom.

A FULL ACCOUNT OF THE GREATEST NAVAL FIGHT IN HISTORY.

A Spanish Cruiser Gives Chase to the American Cruiser Montgomery, and at Dark Four Cannon Shots are Heard by the Officers of the Olinde Rodriquez.

"MANILA, MAY 1.—SQUADRON ARRIVED AT MANILA AT DAYBREAK THIS MORNING. IMMEDIATELY ENGAGED THE ENEMY AND DESTROYED THE FOLLOWING SRANISH VESSELS:

"REINA CHRISTINA, CASTILLA, DON ANTONIO DE ULLOA, ISLA DE LUZON, ISLA DE CUBA, GENERAL LEZO, MARQUES DE DUERO, CORREO, VELASCO, ISLA DE MINDANAO, A TRANSPORT, AND WATER BATTERY AT CAVITE. THE SQUADRON IS UNINJURED, AND ONLY A FEW MEN ARE SLIGHTLY WOUNDED. ONLY MEANS OF TELEGRAPHING IS THE AMERICAN CONSUL AT HONG KONG. I SHALL COMMUNICATE WITH HIM. DEWEY."

Port au Prince, Hayti, May 8.—The United States cruiser Montgomery, Commander Converse, is supposed to have been engaged with a much larger Spanish cruiser last night northwest of Cape Haytien, the seaport town of Hayti, 90 miles north of Port au Prince.

The French steamer Olinde Rodriquez, from Havre, April 16, for Haytian ports, while at Cape Haytien, the Spanish ship watching her mistook the steamer for an American vessel.

The Montgomery left Cape Haytien and the Spaniard, which is presumed to have been watching for her, is said to have pursued her, both putting on full steam.

The Spaniard gained in the pursuit, which was witnessed from the bridge of the Olinde Rodriquez by the officers of that vessel. The Spaniard was the larger and faster of the two.

By nightfall four discharges of cannon were heard, which it is believed was the result of the Spaniard firing on the American warship.

The arrival of 17 Spanish war ships and other vessels at Puerto Rico is reported, and Sampson's Squadron has been sighted to the north of Cape Haytien.

Details of Dewey's Great Victory.

HONG KONG, May 8.—Commodore Dewey arrived at Subic Bay, about 30 miles north of Manila Bay, on Saturday, April 30, and sent the Baltimore and Concord to reconnoitre the enemy. They found no Spanish ships at the entrance of the bay, and the Commodore decided to risk the mines and proceed that same night after dark into the bay of Manila.

He anchored the fleet in the bay before Manila, and sent a message to Governor General Augusti announcing the blackade, and adding that if a shot was fired against his ships he would destroy every battery about Manila. The position occupied by the Spaniards, with the support which their ships received from land batteries and the big guns they had ashore, gave them an enormous advantage. Yet the Spaniards lost over 600 killed and wounded, all their ships (11) were destroyed and their naval arsenal at Cavite was destroyed with defenses.

The larger ships of Spain cruised off Cavite and Manila. The Spanish flagship opened fire, and was followed by the larger Spanish warships. Then the Cavite forts opened, and then the smaller Spanish vessels.

The American squadron, led by the Olympia, did not reply, but moved onward. When nearing Baker bay a sudden upheaval of water a short distance ahead of the Olympia showed the Spaniards had exploded a mine or torpedo. This was followed by a second and similar explosion, but both were fruitless, the American fleet drawing nearer the Spaniards.

Shots from the Cavite batteries and from the Spanish ships went equally wide of the mark. The American fleet entered the bay between Cabaalo and Frile Islets in the following order: The flagship Olympia, Baltimore, Raleigh, Concord, Boston, Petrel and McCulloch, with the storeships Nanshan and Zafiro bringing up the rear.

The Spaniards opened fire at 600 yards, but the Americans reserved their fire until within 400 yards, when the real battle began. The Reina Christiua, Castilla, Don Antonio de Ulloa, Isla de Cuba, Isla de Luzon and Mindanao were in line of battle outside of Cavite at the time, with the four gunboats and torpedo boats inside the harbor.

The American ships then passed backward and forward six times across the front of the Spaniards, pouring in shot and shell. Every American shot seemed to tell, while almost every Spanish shot missed.

The American ships retired for breakfast, and a council of war was held on the Olympia. The Spanish flagship Reina Christina was riddled, and the Castilla was on fire. They eventually burned to the water's edge. The Don Antonio de Ulloa made a show of desperate bravery. When her commander found he could not keep her afloat he nailed her colors to the mast, and she sank with all hands fighting.

During the engagement a Spanish torpedo boat crept along the shore and round the offing, in an attempt to attack the American store ships, but she was discovered, driven ashore and shot to pieces.

The battle started at 5:30 a. m. and closed at 8:30 a. m., and was resumed about noon. Not much fight was left in the Spaniards. The Petrel and Concord shot the Cavite batteries into silence, leaving them heaps of ruins and floating the white flag. The Spanish gunboats were then scuttled. The arsenal caught on fire and the explosion of the Spanish magazine caused further mortality among the defenders of Spain on shore.

On water the burning, sunken or destroyed Spanish warships were seen, while only the cruiser Baltimore suffered in any way from the fire of the enemy. A shot which struck her exploded some ammunition near one of her guns and slightly injured half a dozen of her crew.

The Reina Christina lost captain, lieutenant, chaplain and a midshipman by one shot which struck her bridge. The Castilla had 100 men killed and 60 wounded. It is estimated that over 1,000 Spaniards were wounded during the engagement.

Even when the Spanish flagship was shot half away her commander, though wounded, refused to leave the bridge till the ship was burning and sinking, her stern having been shattered by a shell and her steam pipe burst.

A Welcome Letter From Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 7th.

Mr. Spencer Cooper—Dear Sir: I take the pleasure of writing you a few lines from the metropolis, letting all my friends know that I have not forgotten them. I have been in Louisville several weeks undergoing treatment for my eyes. When I left home last September for a visit to Winchester and Mt. Sterling I expected to be gone but a short time. "But there is a divinity that shapes our ends, rough hew them as we may." While sitting at my window watching the thronging masses surge to and fro, and listening to that continuous, monotonous din which is characteristic of our great cities, I could not help to contrast the scene with my dear old country home.

"Dear country life! can I forget the least of thy sweet trifles." How I long to be back again in my dear mountain home, climbing again those old familiar hills and viewing the scenes of my school days. One hour spent thus is worth a week spent here. Louisville certainly posesses many attractions, with its handsome and stately buildings, broad streets, delightful parks, and numerous places of amusements; but there is something I can not describe, something no one but a mountain girl can realize. I have made many acquaintances and some friends while here, but they are not like old friends. My dear friend, Minnie Day, one of the sweetest girls and best teachers in the State, made me a visit last week, and while her visit was a pleasant surprise, yet the time seemed to drag more slowly after she had gone. How I envy her those delightful rambles and horseback rides over the hills, while we poor mortals are shut in between brick walls and smoke stacks. But everything comes to those who wait. Brother Silas will complete his course in June, and then we will both return to dear old Hazel Green, and until that time my thoughts and best wishes are with you all. Remember among my best friends I count THE HERALD. Don't fail to send it regular, for you do not know how glad and anxious we are to get it.

Respectfully,

MAGGIE M. KASH.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce JOHN E. GARNER, of Winchester, Clark county, as a candidate for Congress in this (the Tenth) district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Hon. THOS. Y. FITZPATRICK, of Prestonsburg, Floyd county, as a candidate for re-election to congress from the Tenth district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

SHORTLY after the war three young officers of the Fourth Kentucky cavalry, veteran volunteers, viz: Captain John F. Weston, of Louisville, Captain John M. Bacon, of Frankfort, and Captain Spencer Cooper, of Lexington, respectively aged about 23, 22 and 21, were tendered commissions as second lieutenants in the regular cavalry of the United States army. Bacon accepted at once, was assigned to the Fifth cavalry, we believe, and Weston went to the Seventh, Custer's regiment, some time in 1866. We were "sowing some oats" at the time, and declined with thanks. We have not heard of Weston for several years, but he had then attained the rank of major and is doubtless now a colonel, at least. Bacon won his way step by step until he got to be colonel of the Eighth cavalry, and last week President McKinley commissioned him a brigadier general. That was about 33 years ago, and the trio has been fighting nearly all that time. Weston and Bacon the Indians, and Cooper the wolfe—from the door. They have gained honor and distinction, while we glory in THE HERALD and a lot of delinquent subscribers. But, remembering the fate of Lot's wife, we shall look not with retrospective eye again. Yet—

"Of all sad words, of tongue or pen,
The saddest are these—it might have been."

This is published merely to "point a moral," and not to "adorn a tale."

PORTO RICO, distant 500 miles from Cuba, embraces an area of only 3,550 square miles, and has a population of 900,000. A range of mountains running east and west average 1,500 feet, though rising in one peak 3,678 feet above the level of the sea. Much of the land, however, is very fertile. Exports and imports amount to $28,000,000 annually. San Juan (pronounced san-hoo-an), the capital, has a population of 30,000. This island will be captured by the United States and made a base of supplies in event the war with Spain is protracted.

WHERE is the Spanish fleet that left Cape Verde Islands, is now the momentous question. May it not be maneuvering to entrap Dewey?

DEWEY'S conduct at Manila was so admirable that Secretary Long has promoted him to admiral.

THE Phillipines consist of 1218 islands, 400 of which are inhabited. Probably two-thirds of the inhabitants are half civilized savages, who live in the interior of the islands where the Spaniards have never assumed full control. The governor general's salary is $40,000 a year and as much more as he can steal. Weyler is said to have made a million a year at this point. An insurrection similar to that in Cuba has been going on for several years. Gen. Aquinaldo commands the insurgents. He is wealthy, highly educated, and was aboard Dewey's flagship when he crushed the Spanish fleet off Manila. The largest city is Manila, which has a population of 300,000, more than 100,000 more than Louisville. The islands, with an area of 118,000 square miles, have an estimated population of 9,000,000, or about 7,000,000 more than Kentucky, which has an area of 40,400 square miles. The products, like those of Cuba, are sugar, coffee, tobacco, hemp and cotton, and tropical fruits. Exports and imports amount to $38,000,000, and the net revenue to Spain is $8,000,000 annually. The islands are 600 miles from Hong Kong, China, and 6,500 miles from San Francisco, California.

* * *

THE Sooloo islands form a long chain from Mindanao to Borneo, having the same mountainous and volcanic structure as the Phillipine Islands, and are all probably fragments of a submerged continent. Immense forests spread over the Phillipines, clothing the mountains to their summits. Ebony, iron wood, cedar, sapan wood, gum trees, etc., being laced together and garlanded by the bush rope or palasan, which attains a length of several hundred feet. The variety of fruit trees is great, including the orange, citron, bread fruit, mango, coconnot, guava, tamarind, rose apple, etc. Other important vegetable products are the banana, plantain, pineapple, sugar cane, cotton, tobacco, indigo, coffee, cocoa, cinnamon, vanilla, cassia, the arecanut, ginger, pepper, etc., with rice, wheat, maize, and various other cereals.

* * *

THE Tagals and Bisayers are the most numerous native races. They dwell in the cities and cultivated lowlands, 2,500,000 being converts to Roman Catholicism and a considerable number, especially of the Bisayers, Mohammedan. The mountain districts are inhabited by a Negro race, who, in features, stature, and savage mode of living, closely resemble the Alfoors of the interior of Papua, and are probably the aborigines driven before the inroads of the Malays. The Mestizos form an influencial part of the population. These are mostly of Chinese fathers and native mothers. Few Spaniards reside in the Phillipine Islands. The Sooloo islands have a population of 150,000, and are governed by a sultan, whose capitol is Sung. Luzon has a population of 2,500,000.

* * *

ABOUT one-fourth of the population of the Phillipines are independent of Spain, and governed by native princes. Luzon, in the north, has an area of 51,300 square miles, and Mindanao, or Magindanao, in the south, fully 25,000. To the southwest of the Bissayas lies the long, narrow island of Paragoa, or Palawan, a mountain chain with low coast lines, cut with numerous streams and exceedingly fertile. The forests abound in ebony, logwood, gum trees and bamboo; area 8,820 square miles. West of Luzon lie the Batanen, Bashee, and Babuyan, the first two groups having about 8,000 population, the last unpeopled.

* * *

THE Phillipine Islands were discovered in 1521 by Magellen, who, after visiting Mindanio, sailed to Zebu, where, taking part with the king in a war, he was wounded, and died at Mactan on the 26th of April, 1521. For some time the chief Spanish settlement was on Zebu; but in 1581 Manila was built, and has since continued to be the seat of government. In August, 1896, the natives revolted against Spanish authority and declared for independence. Several bloody battles were fought, but up to this time the insurrection has not been suppressed.

Gold is found in river beds and detrital deposits, being used, in form of dust, as the medium of exchange in Mindanao. Iron is plentiful, and fine coal beds, from one to four feet thick, have been found. Copper has long been worked in Luzon. There are also limestone, a fine variegated marble, sulphur in unlimited quantity, quicksilver, vermillion, and saltpeter—the sulphur being found both native and in combination with copper, arsenic, and iron.

FOR ALL WOMEN

NINE-TENTHS of all the pain and sickness from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

McELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

Is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefitted by it.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THOS. J. COOPER, Tupelo, Miss., says: "My sister suffered from very irregular and painful menstruation and doctors could not relieve her. Wine of Cardui entirely cured her and also helped my mother through the Change of Life."

"It always rains on May 10; I have noticed it for a hundred times or more," used to say an old Virginian. Whether he was right or not, it rained here Tuesday.

About two inches of snow fell in parts of Wolfe county on Friday night and Saturday morning. Snow in patches could be seen until late in the afternoon Saturday.

Two months ago we had serious doubts whether there would be any crops made in this section this year. All the young men and many of the old ones were "off for Cuba in a day or two." Today a yoke of steers couldn't pull one of 'em to within ten feet of a recruiting officer.

THE HERALD will be clubbed with the following papers at the price named:

Mrs. Frank Pieratt and Miss Myrtle Williams, of Blackwater, were pleasant callers at THE HERALD office Thursday last. They came up to buy hats of Mrs. Kash, and like all who deal with her, were delighted with their purchases.

Good People to Live Among.

The thank tank is full to overflowing this week, and our heart and well wishes go out in great chunks to the dear people who have so generously remembered us since last issue. Some people do things by halves, some by quarters, and some again in fractional parts so small that it takes a powerful magnifying glass to determine their magnitude. Not so with David Linden and wife of Gillmore creek, who will please accept the thanks of the editor and his better 1 for a nice fresh 13 pound ham of pork sent us on Sunday by young Mr. Nickell, who also has our thanks for the cheery, courteous manner in which he apprised us of the generous gift. Why, when we think of people who remember us thus kindly we forget our worldly cares for the nonce, and feel that it is indeed good to be here among a hospitable, whole-souled people such as Dave Linden and wife. May no sorrows ever mar the joys of their young married life, and when they come to die may they and theirs "be presarved in one jar and placed on the highest shelf of paradise," as an old Baptist preacher in Carroll and Trimble counties was wont to pray before the war.

Commencement at the Academy.

The program for commencement week, June 4 to 8, is outlined thus:

Saturday, 8 p. m.—Declamatory Contests; Sunday, 11 a. m.—Baccalaureate Sermon; Sunday, 8 p. m.—Annual Address to Endeavorers; Monday, 8 p. m.—Annual Debate; Tuesday, 3 p. m.—Annual Reunion; Tuesday, 8 p. m.—Lecture: "A Man of Snap"; Wednesday, 10 a. m.—Commencement Day.

The lectnre, "A Man of Snap," will be given by Rev. George Darsie of Frankfort, Ky. This will be a rare treat for our people and the school, and will be "a foretaste" of what is to follow during the next session of the school.

The baccalaureate sermon and address to the Endeavorers will be delivered by Rev. W. F. Smith of Lexington, Ky.

The address to the graduates on commencement day will be delivered by Prof. George Nelson Stevenson of Prince Edward's Island, Canada.

Died From Drinking Cinnamon.

The death of Jack Peyton and Steve Jones near Grassy, Monday night and Tuesday morning, respectively, was quite a shock to that community, and should be a warning to all who indulge in the use of intoxicants. They had been drinking and on Sunday procured some extract of cinnamon, of which they each drank four or six bottles. Inflammation of the stomach set up, and subsequently brain fever. Peyton died Monday night and Jones on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, both in great agony. Peyton leaves a wife and one child and Jones a wife. Dr. McClure, who gave us the information, says that both the men cried for water incessantly up to their last breath.

The Cow Pea as Forage.

The editor of the Jackson Hustler, commenting upon Jimmie Swango's article in THE HERALD introducing cow peas to the farmers of this section, which he reproduces, adds the following: "Not only is cow pea hay a splendid feed for animals, but the seeds, when boiled, is the best milk producing feed known." As Mr. Morrow is a native of the "goober" state of Georgia, where the cow pea is as staple as corn in this state and some times used as an edible in lieu of beans, also, his testimony should weigh well. Our farmers ought, at least, give the pea a chance, and we believe from our own knowledge that it will prove a profitable experiment.

At the regular services of the Christian church on Sunday the topics for sermons will be, at 11 a. m., "Our Shepherd—Jeesus"; at 8 p. m., "Baptism—The Design and the Subject." All persons are very cordially invited to both services. Remember the Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., and the Endeavor meetings at 2:30 and 6:30 p. m.

Henry Pieratt last week sent his uncle Joe Pieratt a jar of stewed pumpkin, and people on Blackwater say "Joe's takin' on a slight shout hit." Proud, you know, because there is nothing of which he is more fond.

Prevention is better than cure. Keep your blood pure, your appetite good and your digestion perfect by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla, gentle, efficient.

All claims for Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey are substantiated by the reports from those who have used it. Coughs, colds, incipient consumption, and all bronchial affections are the diseases in which it is especially efficacious.

The pastor of the M. E. church, south, is making a very laudable effort to raise funds sufficient to paper, paint, and otherwise repair and furnish the interior of the church. The membership generally, and also members of other churches, are responding liberally.

Charley Swango left last week for Omaha, Nebraska, where he has a position in the exposition, which opens there June 1. Charley had a similar position in the Nashville exposition, and his experience there eminently qualifies him for the place at Omaha.

Roe Havens came over Monday to get some bills which this office printed for his brother-in-law, J. L. Barker, and said of the job, "that is as nice as I ever laid my two eyes upon." That's the kind we turn out, the only kind, and at bed rock prices, too. When you need bills or printing of any kind, come and see us, and save money.

The final examinations at the academy will begin on Monday, the 30th inst. There are three candidates for graduation at this commencement, and if they pass the required standard they will speak on the following topics: Miss Lou Maxey, "Scatter Boquets Today"; Edward O. Taulbee, "The Living Present"; Robt. B. Day, "Keeping Step to the Music."

A Shattered Nervous System.

FINALLY HEART TROUBLE.

Restored to Health by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

MR. EDWARD HARDY, the jolly manager of Sheppard Co's. great store at Braceville, Ill., writes: "I had never been sick a day in my life until in 1890. I got so bad with nervous prostration that I had to give up and commence to doctor. I tried our local physicians and one in Joliet, but none gave me any relief and I thought I was going to die. I became despondent and suffered untold agony. I could not eat, sleep nor rest, and it seemed as if I could not exist. At the end of six months I was reduced to but a shadow of myself, and at last my heart became affected and I was truly miserable. I took six or eight bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine. It gave me relief from the start, and at last a cure, the greatest blessing of my life."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.
